Introduction

The ethical climate of the IEI is an essential element in establishing its credibility and furthering its mission. An organisational culture that takes ethical considerations into account at every point cannot be produced simply by having the IEI Board lay down a code; ethical principles must arise from consultation with and responsiveness to the organisation's members, employees, volunteers, and stakeholders.

1. Purpose

The purpose of the Institute of Electrical Inspectors Code of ethics and professional Conduct is to inform all members of the requirements and responsibilities as a member of the Institute of Electrical Inspectors Australia.

The Code of ethics and professional Conduct has been prepared as an informative document for the express use of all members of the Institute of Electrical Inspectors within Australia.

This code of conduct has been produced to notify all Institute members of their responsibilities and requirements when holding any level of membership of the Institute of Electrical Inspectors.

The contents of this document in its entirety shall be available to all members of the Institute for their information. No section or portion shall be withheld.

Contents contained herein are available from but not limited to:

The Institute of Electrical Inspectors Constitution 2012
The Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC).

2. Policy

The Institute of Electrical Inspectors Commits itself to operating in accordance with this ethical code drawn up through agreed procedures following consultation with members, employees, volunteers, and stakeholders.

3. Authorisation

Author: David Bibby
Position: Company Secretary

Authorisation: Board of Directors of the Institute of Electrical Inspectors Australia

6. External Committee Members

Role

An External Committee Member is an Institute member who has been appointed by the Board to represent the Institute on a committee constituted by another organization or body. Typical external committees include Australian Standards, Service and Installation Rules and the like but may be any committee with which the Institute desires or agrees to participate.

Responsibilities

- Report (the external) committee activity to the IEI Board quarterly, and provide a formal annual report suitable for the AGM and subsequent publication.
- Provide a quarterly report of the external committee activity for publication in "The Journal".
- Canvass members of the IEI Board regarding any controversial issues that may arise from time to time.
- Although it is recognised that this is often not practical, wherever practicable, seek opinion of members before voting on external committee key issues.
- All reports shall be sent to the Secretary of the Institute prior to the beginning of the Board meeting / AGM to allow time for the report to be added to the Agenda and minutes of the meeting.

Note: Points one and two above can be inclusive i.e., The report to the Board may also be used as the quarterly report for "The Journal".

Due to the Board of Directors meetings occurring between February and November each year, the following months are the quarterly reporting requirements:

February, May, August and November.

Motions moved at the Annual General Meeting, October 17th 2009 as additional conditions of representation

1. IEI external Committee members who do not comply with the Code of ethics & professional conduct, are to have their positions on those external committees terminated for a period of 12 months and may reapply at the next Annual General Meeting. Extenuating circumstances may be taken into consideration by the Board of Directors.
2. IEI external committee members shall represent the IEI on one external committee only at any given time unless special circumstances exist.

7. Disputes and mediation procedure

- (1) The grievance procedure applies to disputes under this Code of Conduct between—
 - (a) a member and another member; or
 - (b) a member and the Company (Institute of Electrical Inspectors).
- (2) The parties to the dispute must meet and discuss the matter in dispute, and, if possible, resolve the dispute within 14 days after the dispute comes to the attention of all of the parties.
- (3) If the parties are unable to resolve the dispute at the meeting, or if a party fails to attend that meeting, then the parties must, within 10 days, hold a meeting in the presence of a mediator.
- (4) The mediator must be—
 - (a) a person chosen by agreement between the parties; or
 - (b) in the absence of agreement—
 - (i) in the case of a dispute between a member and another member, a person appointed by the Board of Directors of the Institute; or
 - (ii) in the case of a dispute between a member and the Institute, a person who is a mediator appointed or employed by the Dispute Settlement Centre of Victoria (Department of Justice).
- (5) A member of the Institute can be a mediator.
- (6) The mediator cannot be a member who is a party to the dispute.
- (7) The parties to the dispute must, in good faith, attempt to settle the dispute by mediation.
- (8) The mediator, in conducting the mediation, must—
 - (a) give the parties to the mediation process every opportunity to be heard; and
 - (b) allow due consideration by all parties of any written statement submitted by any party;and
 - (c) ensure that natural justice is accorded to the parties to the dispute throughout the mediation process.
- (9) The mediator must not determine the dispute.
- (10) If the mediation process does not result in the dispute being resolved, the parties may seek to resolve the dispute in accordance with the Act or otherwise at law.
